Module Content & Assessment
Indicative Content
Theme 1: Introduction covers the Post Fordism debate and the formation of the new economy, globalization and IRs, pluralist's defense of workers voice, the old and new role of trade unions and the neo-liberal critique of collective Bargaining.
Theme 2: - The Context of IRs in Ireland– looks at IRs institutions (WRC & LC), trade unions, the role of the government and employers, the European Union, Globalization, multinationals and Irish IRs.
Theme 3: Union Recognition in the New Economy covers the Irish state approach to union recognition and the pluralist tradition in the context of the new economy.
Theme 4: IRs Management Approaches reviews how employers, state and trade unions manage IRs. We will look at how the equilibrium between equity, voice and equity can be maintained and their implications for organisational justice.
Theme 5: Compliance and Cooperation in the Workplace– This will include issues of workers voice as a purpose of trade unions and a brief review of social partnership and its demise in Ireland. We will explore how employees may have a voice when designing and delivering solutions which impact them.
Theme 6: The Labour Market– Looks are working in the contemporary economy and trade union approaches to managing change.
Theme 7: Jobs and Productivity in the new economy presents the impact of neo-liberalism on the form of job, flexibility, the gig economy, independent work and the search for productivity and its IRs implications.
Theme 8: The New Public Sector &amp; the Future of IRs– covers management approaches in the public sector and strategic options regarding the future of IRs.
